

THE ADIEU.

SELECTED FROM DUTAR'S "MAID OF THE MIST."

TO K—Y.

"The rich hues of autumn
Around us are gleaming:
Reflected in beauty,
The sunlight is beaming:
Yet though bright is the scene
Which breaks on the view,
There is sadness beneath it—
'Tis summer's ADIEU."

The leaf, whilome turning
Its face to the sky,
Now pales and now reddens
To think it must die;
And sadly 'tis drooping
Where gaily it grew;
And, stirred by the bleak wind,
It trembles "ADIEU."

The bright birds have sung their
Adieus, and are gone:
The forest all voiceless
Is cheerless and lone—
And the soft summer wind
Which gratefully blew,
Its last kiss hath given,
And sighed its ADIEU."

Then since you must leave me,
Now, now let it be;
And while earth mourns her glory,
I'll mourn, love, for thee.
Oh! who that the heart break
Of parting e'er knew,
Could wish nature all smiles,
When he whispers ADIEU."

Adieu then thou loved one,
Adieu for a while;
And when summer shall crown
Bleak earth with a smile,
The warm glance of thine eye
This heart shall renew,
And banish the gloom of
This broken ADIEU."

More MORMONS.

An English paper has the following paragraph about a new shipment to this country. Its location of Quincy, "on the Mississippi, in Michigan," is amusing, and shows a wonderful precision in its knowledge of transatlantic geography—"The New York packet ship North America, Capt. Lowner, sailed on Tuesday week with 19 cabin passenger, and 200 in the steerage. The whole of the steerage passengers belong to a sect called "Latter Day Saints," and are bound for Quincy in the state of Michigan, on the borders of the Mississippi, where a settlement has been provided for them by one of their sect, who has purchased a large tract of land in Michigan. We understand that upwards of 2,000 are in treaty to embark early next spring for the same locality. A great portion of those who sailed in the North America, are members of the total abstinence society, and are from Leicestershire and Herefordshire."

A Thorough Going Anti-Laborer.

A fortnight since, a rogue by the name of Defaul, was sentenced at Boston to the Massachusetts State Prison, for stealing, much against his inclination. Mr. Lincoln, the Warden, set him to work in the stone shop, and on Wednesday morning, in order to disable himself from work, he attempted to cut off his left hand with his stone hammer. The hammer, however, was rather too dull to cut clean through, and he only succeeded in mashing his fingers and the back of his hand. He made two successive blows at his hand. He was taken to the hospital, and his mangled limb was splintered up as well as it could be. Some seven or eight years ago a prisoner was more successful, and cut his hand clean off with an axe, but as soon as the stump was healed, they set him to work turning a grind stone, and kept him at it till his time expired.

St. Petersburg.

The Abeille du Nord of yesterday publishes the following letter from Teflis, dated the 13th of August:—"You have doubtless heard of the terrible earthquake of Mount Ararat, which has totally destroyed the town of Nakitchevan, damaged all the buildings at Erivan, and desolated the town of Scharour and Sourmata in Armenia; all the villages in those districts have been destroyed. The earth is rent in such a manner that all the cotton and rice plantations have perished for want of water. But the most awful event has taken place in the neighborhood of Mount Ararat. A considerable mass was loosened from the mountain, and destroyed every thing in its way for the distance of seven wersts, (nearly five English miles.) Among others the great village of Abkouli has had the fate of Herculaneum and Pompeii; above 1000 inhabitants were buried under heaps of rocks. A thick fluid which afterwards became a river, ran from the interior of the mountain which was opened and following the same direction, swept over the ruins, and carried with it the corpses of the unfortunate inhabitants of Abkouli, their dead animals, &c. The shock continued to be felt for several days in the above mentioned districts, and entirely laid them waste; then the shocks became less frequent. Ararat is not yet quiet; the day before yesterday I was awakened by two violent subterranean commotions."—Journal de St. Petersburg, Sept. 12.

CURE FOR THE FEVER AND AGUE.—This most distressing disease, in an unusually malignant form, is now very prevalent through the country. In the hope of relieving some of its victims, we will mention a simple remedy, which, in years gone by wrought a perfect cure upon one of us, when all other remedies failed. When the chill is expected, infuse about an ounce of ground cloves with a quart of hard cider, and boil it thoroughly. Take a good draught of it. In our case it needed no repetition.—Sat. Courier.

Curing Hams.

A Correspondent of the Farmers' Cabinet gives the following method of preserving hams: I turn my barrel over a barrel or kettle in which I burn hard wood for seven or eight days; keeping a little water on the head of the barrel, to prevent it from drying. I then pack two hundred weight of ham in my barrel, prepare a pickle, by putting six gallons of water in a boiler, with twelve pounds of salt, twelve ounces of saltpetre, and two quarts of molasses. This I stir sufficiently to dissolve the salt, &c., and let boil and skim it. I then let it cool and pour it on my ham, and in one week I have smoked ham, very tender, of an excellent flavor, and well smoked.

Preservation of Cabbages.

The following method of preserving cabbages for winter use, says the Albany Cultivator, is the result of experience:

The cabbages should be gathered before injury is done them by the severe fall frosts; the heavy outside leaves should remain on the stalk. Fix a string or cord round the stump near the roots, suspend from the sleepers with the heads downward in a cool cellar, and they are ready and fit for use at all times. Cabbages kept in this manner retain all their peculiar flavor and sweetness; the whole virtue of the stump and leaves is concentrated in the part which is used, are handy of access, occupy but little room which would be occupied for other purposes, and seldom, if ever, rot; the outside leaves wilt and contract, and in time become quite dry, which form a sort of coating which serves to exclude the air from the inside of the head.

Another method practised by some, and highly recommended, is to cut the head from the stump, pack close in a sack, taking care to fill up the vacancies with dry chaff, thereby excluding the air, and keep in a dry cellar.
